MENOPAUSE

Results in the loss of hormones, and without them, the vagina can become painful or dry, especially during intercourse.

CHILDBIRTH

Can cause stretching of the vaginal tissues with permanent loss of tone, leading to a change in sensation with sex.

URINARY INCONTINENCE

Many women experience loss of urine while laughing, coughing, sneezing or exercising.

These health issues can often diminish a woman's confidence and self-esteem, and even place a strain on sexual relations.
